Solution Background

Bank is a financial institution licensed to receive deposits making loans. There are various important facilities in the bank, such as ATMs and coffers, and the bank would receive a large number of clients everyday. Hence, a complete and comprehensive bank video surveillance solution should take these into consideration. It should cover all critical areas without any blind spot and realize unified management at headquarters.

A bank would have many branches. It requires headquarter monitors all branches with a dedicated network. Starlink bank surveillance solution can solve the issues of interconnection even though there is no dedicated network in some branches. Starlink has been in video surveillance since 2009, owning mature bank surveillance solution which solves any potential security challenges and can be applied in all kinds of bank-related surveillance scenarios.
